The Chernobyl zone is a closed zone within a 30km radius of from Chernobyl station. There are a lot of green parks and lawns, but it is sad to realise that children do not play there any more. Entrance to this zone is possible only with the help of permits, which are authorised for tourists in the Ministry of Nuclear Industry.

In the territory tourists who arrive to Chernobyl examine the fire department and the monument to firemen who were engaged in extinguishing the fire on the 4th block of CHAES. After that tourists will see construction blocks for the burial place of nuclear waste. After that tourists go to a museum about the Chernobyl tragedy and have the opportunity to be photographed with the background of the 4th reactor at a small distance. The Chernobyl accident happened exactly in this reactor and now it is closed by a sarcophagus.
